

PRESS RELEASE

Invitation to attend the World Grains Summit: Foods and Beverages

Bringing together the grain-based foods and beverages community.

September 17-20, 2006 • Moscone Convention Center • San Francisco, California U.S.A.

You are invited to attend the World Grains Summit: Foods and Beverages, September 17-20, 2006, in picturesque San Francisco, California. Don't miss this world-class event hosted by AACC International and Master Brewers Association of the Americas (MBAA). The Summit offers something for everyone. Capture the lead on evolving products, ingredients, advancing technologies, scientific and technological progress, and the future of the grain-based foods and beverages industries with global leaders.

The members of the Program Team have done an outstanding job in organizing an incredible program highlighting six technical session tracks:

bread, breakfast foods, beer and other beverages, pasta, sweet/salty foods, and grain exchange. In addition, there will be technical posters, workshops, supplier exhibits and time to explore the city.

There are numerous benefits in attending the World Grains Summit including an abundance of opportunities to network, learn, build business relationships, and hear first-hand the issues and challenges facing the industry today. Plus, there will be ample time to connect with colleagues and suppliers while enjoying the exhibits and hospitality sessions. We urge you to block out September 17-20, 2006 on your calendar and plan to attend what promises to be an exceptional program in a magnificent venue.

For more convention details please see:
<http://www.wgsummit.org/>

