Editorial Policies

The Journal of the Institute of Brewing is an international journal publishing high-quality scientific papers reporting significant recent research. Acceptable research areas include those relating to the brewing and fermentation industries, their raw materials and by-products. Papers may be reviews or reports of original investigations that make a definitive contribution to existing knowledge. The content must not have been published or accepted for publication elsewhere, and papers must not be under consideration by another journal. Papers are drawn from universities, research institutes and industrial laboratories worldwide. All submissions are sent to two expert reviewers for assessment with due consideration to confidentiality. Every issue contains abstracts of articles published internationally in the fields of brewing and fermentation. Four issues are published each year, together with an annual index. Each volume contains the official publications and Annual Report of the Institute of Brewing & Distilling.

Please direct inquiries on editorial policy, manuscript submission and the review process to: Dr. Inge Russell, Editor-in-Chief, 467 Commissioners Rd. E., London, ON N6C 2T6 Canada; Telephone (1)519 686-5768, Fax (1)647 439-0892, and E-mail Ingerussell@sympatico.ca. To shorten the time between submission and acceptance we encourage the submission of electronic copies of the manuscript for the review process. Submission details are provided in the Guidelines for Authors section and on our website at www.ibd.org.uk.

The Journal of the Institute of Brewing is published by the Institute of Brewing & Distilling. Address change inquiries should be directed to the Institute of Brewing & Distilling attention Jessica Baldwin, jessica.baldwin@ibd.org.uk. Subscription is open to members and non-members. Subscription price is £200 per year (inclusive).
